February Calendar

We all have to make decisions - whether it's deciding what color of shirt to wear today, or whether your money is best spent on the newest smart phone. Making decisions can be scary, even overwhelming, and many will avoid or put off making a decision, especially important ones. Others might act impulsively or leave the outcome to chance (e.g. flip a coin). There is a better way though - join us to learn some helpful tricks and strategies to help you make your own decisions, whether big or small!
